Introduction
A scientist decided to look for her grandfather, who was separated from grandmother many years ago during the war. She begins her investigation with a letter written by her grandfather. She needs help from the little detectives to find her grandfather through inference, blood type identification and unlocking the DNA and the gene codes.

A crazy mathematician applies “Sequences” and “Golden Ratio” to decorate her house. But a naughty fairy has caused her many troubles. Can you help and solve her Math problems?
